STANISLAUS GCMA GAME SATURDAY

Motorcade Planned To Accompany Rocks To Game At Gulfport.

A motorcade is planned to accompany the Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws to Gulfport Saturday afternoon for their annual game with the Cadets of the Gulf Coast Military Academy. Members of the Sidelines Club will be in line and they ask those of the people of Bay St. Louis who have cars and can go to join in and swell the crowd.

"Because of the lack of support which G. C. M. A. experiences from Gulfport and the vicinity," said Mr. Grady Perkins, president of the Sidelines Club, "it is more necessary that we of Bay Saint Louis should attend this game and show our support towards the local team, because it is rather difficult for a team to become aroused to any sort of enthusiasm when playing to empty benches."

Invading opponents' territory the Rockachaws will take their next victim, Gulf Coast Military Academy. The Cadets offer much opposition to the Red and Blacks for they wish to revenge the defeats of the past years.

At this writing of this article the standing of both teams is as follows:

STANISLAUS:
13 Catholic High	16
15 Biloxi	0
45 Foley High	0
G. C. M. A.
0 N. O. Academy	0
0 Picayune	13
27 Magnolia	0
13 Holy Cross	26

The motorcade will form in the college yard before one o'clock Saturday and will leave at once. It will be led by a contingent of officers who will provide the necessary safety to insure no accidents on the way. Let all get together for a big turnout to Gulfport.

$1000 CASH PRIZES IN GOOD PROVIDER COMPETITION NEWS

Throughout Hancock county entries this week are in the process of completing record books being kept in the Good Provider Competition for 1940, in which $1000 in cash prizes will be awarded in Louisiana and Mississippi for improvements to farms, from home and farm life.

Improvements made between May 15 and November 15, closing date of the contest, will be counted toward the prizes. Immediately after November 15, record books must be turned in to county agents for submission to judges.

Sponsors of the contest, the New Orleans Association of Commerce and The Times-Picayune, are urging farmers to complete projected improvements and hand in their record books immediately after close of the contest. Judging will start immediately, and delay in turning in books may prove costly to some contestants.

Each parish or county winner will be eligible to attend a farm forum in New Orleans late in the year when state winners and the sweepstakes winner will be announced.

After county judging, first, second and third prize winners in farm owner and tenant-sharecropper divisions in each state will be chosen. They will receive prizes of $100, $50 and $25, respectively, and an additional $150 will be given to the best. There also will be prizes for the newspaper and for the county agent and/or demonstration agent adjudged to have done the most to further the contest.

Approximately 2000 farm families in Louisiana and Mississippi are seeking the prizes. Extension services of the two states are co-operating in sponsoring the contest.

ROCKACHAW TEAM LEADS MOSS POINT BY 8 POINTS; 20-12

Felix Blanchard Scores For Stanislaus; Reynolds for Moss Point.

That powerful running attack of the St. Stanislaus football squad was too much for the Moss Point Tigers to compete with last night and they lost by a score of 20 to 12. The home team's touchdowns were made in the first second and third quarters while the invading team chalked their's up in the third and final quarters.

The excitement of the game began immediately when Moss Point kicked to the Rockachaws and the host team then worked the ball down to the visiting team's 2 yard line. Here the Red and Blacks were forced to hand the ball over to the Tigers after failing to complete a first down. Once the Tigers received the ball they punted to safety but again that backfield of the Rocks stepped into the picture and this time the ball was taken over for a touchdown. Felix Blanchard and Louis Perez are credited for this touchdown. "Doc's" kick for the extra point missed the up-rights. In the second quarter the home team advanced the ball, to the Tigers' 20 yard line where a field goal was attempted, but this also failed to cross the up-rights. In this same quarter the Rocks threatened, but luck was against them, as a penalty and fumble placed the ball 25 yards away from a first down and farther away from pay dirt. On the next play Louis Perez threw pass to Ignatius Gianelloni, who made a beautiful catch, and gave the Rocks a first down. From here the Rockachaws took the ball over again for another touchdown. In the conversion for the extra point Joe Green kicked the ball and made it good for the one point. The last touchdown followed immediately after the starting whistle for the second half had blown.

In the third quarter Moss Point began its scoring activity when Reynolds ran 75 yards for a touchdown. Trial for extra point failed. In the last few minutes of the game the Rocks' opponents took to an air attack and made their last tally. Extra point failed.

Final score 20-12.

FIRST WEEK OF NOVEMBER SET FOR STUDENTS' RETREAT

Rev. Dennis Curran, S. J., Member of Jesuit Mission Band to Preach It.

The Annual Students' Retreat, held at St. Stanislaus College, and which has up till now been held at the beginning of Lent, will be given this year during the first week of November, Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, November 4, 5, and 6.

The reason for this advance, as announced by Brother Peter, is to allow the students to clear up any doubts and troubles at the beginning of the school year, and thus get the most out of their religion classes and religious activities of the year.

The Retreat Master will be the famed Rev. Dennis Curran, S. J., of the Southern Mission band. Father Curran is an accomplished speaker, and has gained a wide reputation in the South as a master in Retreats and missions, and St. Stanislaus is very fortunate in securing his services for this week of recollection.

The exercises which will take up the attention of the students during these days will be a series of meditations on the Last Ends and other truths of the Catholic Faith, the Way of the Cross, the recitation of the Beads, and Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament. The Retreat will close on Thursday morning with a General Communion of the student body. This will be followed by the Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament and the bestowal of the Papal blessing to which is attached a plenary indulgence.

All Catholic students are expected to make the Retreat. Boys of other denominations may follow it if they wish. A series of special lectures will be made to the Seniors. These Retreats have been highly successful in the past years. It is expected that this one will reach and even surpass the success of former ones.

"I am particularly asking that you extend my thanks to all who cooperated with you.

Yours very truly,

To the above may we add our thanks and appreciation to everyone who assisted in this great patriotic task.

It may be gratifying for you to know that we were one of the first to register with the governor the number of registrations on that date. Only the splendid cooperation of each and every one made this possible.

SEMINARY HAS FLAG RAISING

Celebrated On Registration Day—New Flag Pole Dedicated.

Registration Day was celebrated in genuine patriotic fashion. At 10 A. M. the faculty members and students of St. Augustine's Seminary gathered around their new, gigantic silver-painted flagpole. The band started out with several spirited selections. The Reverend Lawrence Dudink, S. V. D. gave the principal address: "Our Loyalty to the Flag."

Then the Very Reverend John H. Gasper, S. V. D., the rector of St. Augustine's Seminary, blessed the flag; soon it was raised aloft under jubilant applause; gunshots saluted; the National Anthem was sung enthusiastically. A sophomore student, as representative of the junior student body, rendered a stirring speech. "Our Flag and our Country"; while a representative of the senior students spoke on "Religious Freedom under the Flag." As an expression of the Seminary's loyalty to the Stars and Stripes the whole community sang "God Bless America." Thus ended a glorious ceremony on America's memorable Registration Day.

Since that day the flag is daily unfurled close to the Cross of Christ, which salutes all from the Seminary Chapel, to symbolize that religion and true patriotism always live in peaceful harmony.

The invocation was given by Father Victor of the Pearllington Catholic church and Rev. C. G. Felder, pastor of the Pearllington Methodist church, gave a vocal solo, "I Am an American." Rev. A. J. Boyles, pastor Bay St. Louis church made a short address. The pledge to the flag was led by Miss Billy June Moran. Betty Ryden gave the reading "America for Me" and Peggy Ryden sang "God Bless America." Rev. C. G. Felder gave the benediction.

The parade formed and marched to the Masonic Hall where a floor show and dancing were features of an entertainment. Booths where "all things were sold" netted a nice sum.

On the floats rode Uncle Sam, Miss America and little Miss America.

"Uncle Sam," Herbie Cameron; "Miss America," Thelma Otis and "Little Miss America," Irma Joan Lee.

Special Meeting American Red Cross Saturday.

There will be a special meeting of the American Red Cross to be held at the Courthouse on Saturday, October 28th, at 9:30 A. M. All members are urged and invited to attend to meet with the District supervisor. Mr. George R. Reg is chairman.

Last Thursday afternoon, a meeting of the council for the Recreational Project was held at the community house on Washington with Mrs. James H. Sylvester presiding in the absence of Mrs. W. S. Speer, president, who was in Louisiana.

Several visitors at this meeting expressed great surprise at the report of Mrs. Margaret Hogan, Supervisor of the project in Hancock county, showing the excellent work accomplished and the great number of children and adults who are enjoying the facilities of the playgrounds and community house.

The community house and recreational centers at the St. Rose de Lima School and Valena C. Jones School and the other centers throughout the community have been the means of lessening juvenile delinquency and have provided places where youth might gather and enjoy the facilities of the play grounds and the Community Center and all the streets during their leisure hours and provided them with forms of amusement which have been educational and helpful in every way.

The Community Center is operated on an amount of less than fifteen dollars per month but with the approach of cold weather, it is expected that fuel will entail some little added expense in view of the fact that the large boys have signified their intention of gathering fire wood and a generous citizen has offered the use of a truck for this purpose.

The Community Center is in need of the assistance of generous persons who will contribute towards its upkeep and it is hoped that interested persons will call and see for themselves some of the excellent results that are being accomplished.

KEEP IT SAFE AND SANE.

IT'S never too early to strike a blow in behalf of safety, common sense and common decency. It easily can be too late.

Hence, several days in advance of Halloween, the annual occasion for pranks, the remainder of need for fun exclusively of the "safe and sane" variety is entirely in order.

There is every reason to permit and encourage festivities which are the outlet for exuberant and fun-loving sports. Fun—legitimate and cheap—keeps a people young. It alleviates the condition of too much brooding and dark retrospection. It clears the spiritual freshening humor.

But at the same time, there is every reason to frown upon and prevent—in advance—any incident of untoward possibilities. And it is doubly important at this time when the spirit of malicious mischief already is rampant.

Remember that the activities banned as Halloween fun are those which are banned by the law at all times. The mere fact of Halloween does not revoke the laws governing the public peace and safety, and any activity banned by the law can hardly be excused in the name of "fun." Individuals owe it to themselves, and to the public at large, to celebrate within the law. Full facilities are provided for that. Neither vigil nor the law dares be relaxed.

Celebrate but safely. Keep Halloween clean, and avoid tragedy or reproach.

DESTROYERS AID BRITISH.

EARLY this month a fourth group of over-age destroyers entered a Canadian port, where they were taken over by British seamen, who had just arrived from Britain.

The first batch of American destroyers were sent on Sept. 6, and are now in service overseas. Since then other over-age ships have been taken to England, where they were refitted for immediate service.

The assistance that the United States is rendering the British is important and will probably become more vital as the war continues. It should be remembered by Americans that the aid is being dispatched as a means of defending the United States, rather than as an act of generosity to a brave people.

The first line of our defense is now located in the waters that lap the coasts of Europe. It is being manned by British ships, which has isolated the axis navies, rendering them impotent so far as we are concerned. As long as they continue to be confined in their own waters the security of our shores is guaranteed. It is our business to see that the British fleet is always strong enough to assure this.

WHO TOOK THE FOOD?

LADY Astor, sharp-tongued Virginian, who played an interesting role in British political affairs, begs Americans not to fall for Hitler's propaganda about starving Europe.

She points out that when Hitler entered Denmark, the Danes had enough food to last two years and that even France had full rations, except for pastries. Holland and Norway were well-off for food.

If these countries lack food today, Lady Astor wants to know what became of their food and what will become of any food that is sent to them?

We think the people of this country understand the situation. They are extremely sorry for the people of the Nazi-ruled lands but they have no intention of putting any pressure upon the British to relax their blockade. They know that even if the food that they did nothing but keep the conquered populations strong that it would be assisting Germany because Hitler would commandeer them to labor in behalf of Germany's war effort.

WHAT HAS HAPPENED?

WHAT has become of the big boys of business and finance who were filling the air with their loud lamentations and crying sadly that the nation was bankrupt?

They are strangely silent. It is a coincidence that their grief became less vocal about the time the government began spending billions for defense? Did they realize, with their great intelligence, that this expenditure would pour millions of profits into their laps?

We cannot follow the logic of the business minds, who saw the nation on the road to insolvency, when it was spending to help starving Americans, and now urge greater expenditures than ever, with business concerns, in order that national defenses be strengthened, without batting an eye as they gaze at the mounting deficit.

BRIGHT AUTO COLORS.

AUTOMOBILES are taking on brighter colors. There are two-tone effects in bodies and fenders.

To what extent this will go, no one knows. But the reason for it is that bright colors stimulate business.

We have often recalled that many cities, during the depths of the depression, declined to cut down on their street lights because bright lights had a tendency to lighten the depressed atmosphere that then existed.

So the auto industry has hit upon this same theory to increase sales.

Auto manufacturers have estimated that sales for the new models will top last year by 10 percent.

PILOTS MUST HAVE MENTAL STABILITY.

IT MAY interest you to know that Boy Scouts are preferred by those who are charged with responsibility of selecting young men for the aviation schools being established and maintained by the United States army, says the West Point Times-Leader.

Scouts are physically fit. They have strength, alertness, endurance and courage—the first requisites for the world's most trying job—that of piloting a military plane. And scouts are reverent. They possess that quality described as "mental stability."

"We are looking for normal young men, not the flying genius or the cocky youngster who wants to do stunts," says Col. D. V. N. Grant, of the Air Corps. Potential heroes are always desired, but they are not developed from the temperament that reveals in heroics. Only 55 percent of all the men between the ages of 18 and 30 now chosen for training graduate as pilots, notwithstanding that the entrance tests are rigorous. A large proportion of the failures are set down to lack of sufficient mental stability, which is as much a quality of character as of mind. Youths, otherwise talented and brilliant fall out for want of that sober, sustaining virtue. As in the "most trying job" of piloting a military plane, so at every responsible post of life, there is constant need for the steadiness which "looks on tempests and is never shaken."

NO SPIRITUAL BANKRUPTCY.

EVERY once in a while some divine, of some church or another, comes out with a solemn warning that the United States is "spiritually bankrupt."

These declarations are easily made and sometimes received as evidence of moral degradation. As a matter of fact they represent nothing but the half-baked conclusion of a man without much optimism and, we suspect, little faith.

The argument is advanced that this "spiritual bankruptcy" is to be seen in the failure of millions of people to belong to any "organized religion," which means a church.

The critics of humanity in general do not imagine that it might be possible for the churches to improve their service to mankind and thus gain greater support. They calmly assume that the churches are above reproach and that any individual who fails to support a church organization is bound for hell-fire.

The Echo certainly believes in organized religion and readily advises its readers to join and support the church of their choice. At the same time, we cannot condemn, off-hand, every man and woman who, for reasons of their own, fail to follow our advice.

The contest between various faiths is not without effect upon people, who often, and unfortunately, conclude that church leaders are more interested in church success than in the advancement of religious ideals. They think, and sometimes with correctness, that the message of God would reach more men if some of the churches were less interested in material things.

THE ONLY WAY TO WORLD PEACE.

MORE than twelve years ago fifteen nations of the world renounced war as an instrument of policy and instructed representatives to sign the Pact of Paris on August 12, 1928. Subsequently, forty-eight nations assented to the pledge.

Some of the nations were sincere in their renunciation. Others were not, as the history of the world since that day, has demonstrated. This does not mean that there is no way to outlaw war but it demonstrates that another Pact of Paris would be useless.

Some day in the future the nations of the earth will have a new pact of peace but it will undoubtedly contain clauses designed to punish the outlaw nation that resorts to war.

The United States, as the most powerful nation of the modern world, must be willing to assume its share of the responsibility for maintaining peace. We see clearly today that a refusal to do so in the past has not protected us from the danger of war. Let us avoid the same mistake again.

There will always be outlaw governments in the world ready to use force for national aggrandizement which is a polite term for ordinary stealing. The outlaw governments will respect no treaty promises but they will pay attention to superior gun-power.

The moral is this, that peace-loving nations must maintain, either individually or collectively, sufficient force to deter the outlaws. By working together the peace-loving nations can reduce the cost of the job but if they want to insure peace they must be prepared for war.

AND THAT REMINDS US—

WE are so busy reminding others that we forget to remind ourselves. Perusing Tommie Becker's editorial column in the Semi-Weekly Leader, Brookhaven, we notice he says:

"Time to get that auto tag. That rush around the end of the month will make you wish that you had gotten there sooner. We've seen the buyers stacked ten deep at the sheriff's office on the last day."

In spite of the fact the Sheriff of Hancock county has called attention to the fact we must buy our tags this month or face consequences, many of us will wait until the last moment, causing a crowded condition which can be easily eliminated. Get yours today.

WAR COSTS.

ENGLAND is spending 36 million dollars a day to conduct the war against the attack of the dictator powers. The United States is also pouring out billions to prepare for any eventualities. China, Japan, Russia, Germany and Italy are spending billions to say nothing of the smaller nations. Thus billions are being spent thousands are dying, millions going hungry and the loss of property cannot be estimated. What a pity that one man—a man who rose to power from the humblest walk in life—was able to cast almost the whole world into the vortex of conflict. The fate of this great country—the fate of many smaller countries now hangs in the balance, and no one can foretell what the next day will bring.

Hollywood Echoes.

PREPARATIONS are being made by Metro to film "Mrs. Miniver," a novel of English life during the present day war by Jan Struther, with Greer Garson in the leading role. It will be filmed as soon as Miss Garson finishes her work in "Blossoms in the Dust."

The "Hopalong Cassidy" series, which halted for a time because William Boyd broke his leg, has started up again with the production of "Doomed Caravan" at Kernville, Calif.

Although the current trend is against biographies, and a number of studios have shelved productions already completed, Metro recently announced the immediate production of another, "Dr. Ephraim McDowell," in which Ruth Hussey will have the feminine lead opposite Spencer Tracy.

After two years in production, Charlie Chaplin's first film in four years made its initial appearance in New York on October 15.

"The Great Dictator" is a travesty on Hitler and Mussolini and is the comedian's most ambitious picture and his longest—it runs for two hours and fifteen minutes. Chaplin plays a dual role, that of a dictator and a little Jewish barber who resembles him.

Columbia has taken up its option on Cary Grant's services and as a result, he will make four more pictures for that studio during the next two years. First on the schedule is "Penny Serenade," with Irene Dunn. Two others already selected include "Royal Mail" and "There They Go Again."

Cecil B. DeMille has presented Ottawa, Canada, the headquarters of the Canadian Mounted Police, the material assembled for the filming of his "Northwest Mounted Police," as a museum collection. It includes a model of Fort Carlton, rare Enfield, revolvers, Red river cats, bateaux sleds, hospital implements and rare mounted books, including an original dictionary of the Cree Indian language compiled by Father Lacombe.

Sweden's Orsen Welles is Gustav Wally, actor-producer, who, while in Hollywood, reopened his Stockholm theater, hired a director, cast a play and launched a discovery—all by cable.

Don't get envious when you see Scotch and soda or Champagne served on the screen—it's just ginger ale and you probably can afford that. And that wine is nothing more than grape juice or something similar.

Did you know that Norma Shearer was a photographer's model before she entered the films and then an "unknown" with whom she posed for an advertisement was Frederic March?

Or did you know that Miles Mander makes his living posing as "corpse" for the movies? He can hold his diaphragm flutterless for 3 and a half minutes.

Or that following her success in "Gone With the Wind," Hattie McDaniels is now in the big money and is so good at playing "maid of all work" parts that she refuses any other role?

BING 'BUSTS HIS CONK' IN RHYTHM ON THE RIVER

Star Beats Out "Hot Licks" On Voodoo Boilers" In First Screen "Jive Session."

Rug-Cutters take notice: Harry Lillis Crosby, the Bing of radio, screen and juke box, is really a skin beater down to the very bricks. "Old Timpany Bing" they call him out Hollywood way, and he's dished up a jam smorgasbord in his new Paramount picture, "Rhythm on the River," which, if we're not mistaken, will have you jitterbugs in the groove over at the A. & G. Theater Sunday and Monday of this week.

It's the first McCoy jive (formerly jam) session to be put on celluloid, and it, features the barrelhouse boys of Wingy Mannone with Bingsy cuttin' the woodoo boilers and the tin plate in a clam bake to end all clam bakes.

End notice to rug-cutters. For those less familiar with the jive jargon of the day, what we are pointing out is that Bing Crosby, ably assisted by Wingy Mannone and his swing band, hold an impromptu (jive) session in which Mr. Crosby displays an unheralded ability as a percussionist. To clear all this up at once, to "bust your conk" is to apply yourself diligently.

The jive session was not included in the first scrip of "Rhythm on the River." It was added later when Director Victor Schertzinger stumbled onto an actual after-hours gathering of the musicians who had just gotten together for the fun of it. There were eight pieces in the band—Mannone himself with his trumpet direct from Swing Lane in New York—a fiddle a horn a squeeze box, a licorice stick, a gut box, a fog horn, a dog house and the voodoo boilers.

"Rhythm on the River" brings Mary Martin the "My Heart Belongs to Daddy" girl back to the screen as Bing's leading lady and introduces a famous radio personality to the "big time." Oscar Levant of "Information Please." Basil Rathbone is also seen in an important role as is John Scott Trotter, Bing's radio maestro, and his orchestra.

READ IN BED?

Why Not?

CERTAINLY it's all right to read in bed... provided you sit correctly and have good light. One of the many attractive new pin-to-wall lamps over your bed gives grand light for easier reading. Be sure to use a 100-watt bulb in this lamp.

You also need good lighting in other places in the room as well. Some of these places are shown here.

You'll find that make-up is more successful and a lot more fun when you use a 10-watt lamp on the table. Use a 100-watt lamp on the table.

An A.S. bridge lamp beside the chair provides for reading or sewing with light and convenience to the bedroom. Use a 150-watt lamp.

THE importance of the passage of House Concurrent Resolution No. 29, which is the only proposal for Constitutional changes to be voted on in the November election cannot be over-emphasized.

This is the second attempt by the State lawmakers to bring about this reform to our school lands, and the only solution is to have this proposed law ratified by the voters of the State in the General Election. The first attempt was made in 1936 when the lawmakers passed Senate Bill 432, which Act provided for disposal of the "Lieu Lands" but later ruled by the Attorney General as being in conflict with the State Constitution. It is here pointed out that two Mississippi State Legislatures serving the people of the State under two separate administrations has approved disposing of these "Lieu Lands" on occasion, and that these measures have been approved by Governor White and Governor Johnson.

It is now submitted to the voters of the State for their approval, and in order that the wishes of this great number of outstanding Mississippians representing two separate legislatures and two outstanding citizens who have served our great State as governors might be carried through and this proposal perfected into a law. To do this it is necessary for a majority of those voting at the November election to vote for this Resolution.

"The first collection for the suppression of uncontrolled woods fire, as defined by Chapter 219 of the Laws of 1940, was made just recently by one of the counties under fire protection," says J. B. Bishop, business manager of the Mississippi Forestry Commission. The payment of the costs of suppression does not relieve the guilty party from payment under Section 3422 of the 1930 Code, of damages or destruction, if any, to building, fences, trees, grass, and the range. Moreover, this law provides for a penalty payable to the owner in the amount of a hundred and fifty dollars. In addition to the above costs and penalties the guilty party may be prosecuted for a criminal offense under Section 928 of the 1930 Code.

The Ticket Commissioner of the County Board of Election Commissioners, of each of the 82 counties of the state, have been mailed sample ballots and tally sheets for the November 5 election, by Secretary of State Walker Wood, who is charged under the law with this duty. The sample ballots and tally sheets are being mailed in care of the Circuit Clerk at the county seat, so each Ticket Commissioner is requested to call at the Circuit Clerk's office and get same.

According to the Mississippi Agricultural Experiment Station particular interest is centered this year on dehydrating sweetpotatoes, for use as stock food or possibly for industrial use. For this purpose, the Bureau of Plant Industry, and Chemistry and Engineering, the Tennessee Valley Authority, and the Mississippi Experiment Station are cooperating in the operation of a farm-size dehydrating unit. It consists of a chipper to convert waste timber into chips for fuel, a slicer for shredding the sweetpotatoes, and a thermostat-regulated drying oven with self-contained furnace, motor-driven blower, and storage for 12 hours' fuel supply.

Verification of the report of several weeks ago that the Mississippi National Guard—excepting the 153rd Observation Squadron—will be inducted into federal service on November 25 has been received from the Secretary of War yesterday by Major-General Thomas J. Grayson, head of the state's military department.

The fifth annual High School Day at Mississippi State College has been set for Saturday, November 16, according to Dr. C. D. Humphreys, president of the college. Several thousand guests are expected to attend.
